Supervisor Joe Baca, Jr. Hosted Earth Day Community Clean Up Events in Muscoy and Bloomington

San Bernardino, CA. – On Saturday April 23rd, in honor of International Earth Day, Supervisor Joe Baca, Jr. hosted a community clean up in both Muscoy and Bloomington. With over 350 volunteers altogether in attendance at both locations, and over twenty community partners assisting, both unincorporated areas were left cleaner and healthier for those who reside there. Tons of trash from all over Muscoy and Bloomington were properly disposed, leaving parts of San Bernardino County cleaner than it previously was. The event was meant to last until the afternoon, but due to the abundance of volunteers cleaning up together, the event was completed earlier.

“This year’s community clean up event was more than a success. Seeing so many people go out of their way and volunteer to help clean up both Muscoy and Bloomington was touching. Our teamwork and community commitment to keeping our Earth safe and clean, especially the parts of town that we live brings me so much hope in what is to come for our Fifth District. This event was a huge success, and we couldn’t have done it without our community partners. I want to thank all the volunteers, our County Special Districts, Code Enforcement, California Highway Patrol, and all other partners once again for all the assistance. Let us treat every day like it is Earth Day, let us be kind to our Earth it is our only home. Looking forward to next year’s event!” -Supervisor Joe Baca, Jr.
